NO USE CALLING DOCTOR,
SHE'S DYING ANYWAYHorrible Case of Neglect FoundIDLY WATCH MOTHER DIE
Without Even Taking her
From Chair Where She Suffered

"There's no use calling a doctor, now. She can't live only a couple of days anyway."

This is what members of the family of Mrs. Max Graml told Poor Commissioner Sol Burdick and Humane Officer C. H. Berry after they had stood idly by and watched their mother dying in agony of dropsy, when the officials demanded that they call medical attention.

The case unearthed by the humane and poor commissioners is probably one of the most heart-rending cases of neglect ever exposed in the city.

They were asked to visit the home of Mrs. Max Graml on Losey boulevard near the foot of Granddad bluff and upon their arrival there found Mrs. Graml, who was about 50 years old, sitting in a chair, suffering severely with dropsy. One of her limbs had burst open and she was slowly dying, her husband and a son about 24 years old, idly waiting for the end and doing absolutely nothing to alleviate the old lady's suffering. The sores on her limbs had not been attended to and were beginning to decay.

She had been sitting in the chair, unable to do anything to help herself, for nearly three months, and no physician had been called by her neglectful and mindless family.

The officers visited the scene Tuesday and ordered the family to send Mrs. Graml to the hospital at once.

Tuesday evening Officer Burdick called up the hospitals and found they had done nothing and that the old lady still sat dying, the family failing even to place her upon a bed to spend her last hours.

The officers then immediately ordered an ambulance and had Mrs. Graml taken to St. Francis hospital where she died the next day, it being too late for medical attention to be of any service in saving her life.

Mr. Burdick declares the case of the most horrifying nature and says the neglect shown the old lady by the members of her family is unprecedented.

Mrs. Graml was the woman connected with the Young-Graml feud, some months ago, and at that time served a short sentence in the county jail on a charge of assault preferred by the Youngs who live nearby.

TWO HEARTS NOW;
USED TO BE FOUR

Two love-lorn couples adjourned to the office of the county clerk between exhibitions at the Interstate fair yesterday to secure a license to wed that the fair might be a honeymoon. Only one of the contracting parties is from out of the city.

John Luedtke, La Crosse, secured a license to take Martini Mettelle, New Albin, Ia., as his bride. Frank Sturz and Jennie Fruch, both of La Crosse, also secured the necessary permit to be married.

BOOTH TAKES 18
MONTHS IN "PEN"Embezzling Telegraph Man
Pleads Guilty and Says
Nothing

Pleading guilty and declining to make any statement regarding his actions, J. W. Booth, erstwhile manager of the North American Telegraph office here, today was sentenced to eighteen months in the state prison at Waupun. The first day of November of each year to be spent in solitary confinement.

Booth, who has been in the county bastille since his capture, decided not to fight the charge of embezzling $200, and will begin his sentence at once.

TRIED TO UMPIRE;
IS ON CRUTCHES

"How'd you like to be an umpire?" George Hall, former barber and secretary of the local barbers' union, is pondering over the song sung by Billy Mace during the appearance of "The Umpire" here last week. He is suffering with the same complaint as Mace, the woes of an umpire.

It was not in an assault upon the umpire that Hall received the injuries which compel him to use a pair of crutches. It was while attempting to fulfill the duties of an umpire that he was injured.

Shortly after the La Crosse team returned from Freeport after winning the pennant, an outing was given the boys at Dresden park. Hall was invited to accompany them. After dinner a ball game was proposed. With fourteen present, sides were chosen and Hall, not a player, delegated to umpire.

He filled the position nicely and not a complaint was heard. While running from the pitcher's box to first base to get a particularly close decision, he burst a blood vessel in the calf of his leg. The injury brought him to the ground.

Hall is using a pair of crutches now, unable to step upon his left foot. The attending physician says he will be "out of the game" for six weeks or more.

BOY RUN DOWN
BY AUTOMOBILE

Frank Hahn, a lad employed as a messenger at the Western Union Telegraph office, residing at 2213 Mitchell street, was run down at the corner of Second and Main street, while riding his wheel yesterday by an automobile driven by Charles Close, the auto repair man. The boy was knocked down and run over by the machine. He was severely bruised and the side of his face was badly cut and scratched. He was taken to his home where a physician attended him and it is not believed his injuries will be serious.

Spectators maintain that Mr. Close failed to give proper warning, and that the boy had small opportunity to get out of the way. The machine passed over both of his arms.

Governor Davidson did not arrive to attend the Interstate fair on the closing day. The chief executive of the state was expected if he could make train connections, but as no word was received by the fair directors and officials, they feared he would not come.

No definite word was received from Governor Davidson that he would attend. His last word was that he probably would be here. Yesterday he was at Ellsworth, Pierce county. Railroad connections are poor here and the governor probably was delayed.

He missed his train at Portage and returned to Madison.

Connor Off for Milwaukee
W. D. Connor, chairman of the republican state central committee and candidate for lieutenant governor, left at noon today for Milwaukee. His daughter, who accompanied him on the trip to La Crosse, left with her father.

Governor Davidson and Mr. Connor will make a trip to La Crosse during the campaign next month, planning on a series of speeches in the western district of the state.

The attendance today was estimated by the officials at between 5,000 and 6,000, less than half of that of yesterday. But for a short rain about 1 o'clock the weather was good, though the sky was overcast.

Nearly all of the judging has been finished and exhibitors are preparing to remove their exhibits tomorrow morning.

The fair as a whole has been a marked success, financially and otherwise, though an exact statement of receipts will not be made until a meeting of the directors is held.

The officers and directors of the association, all of whom contributed to the signal success of the exposition are:

President—T. H. Spence.
Vice president—George H. Ray.
Treasurer—E. M. Wing.
Secretary—C. S. Van Auker.
Directors—T. H. Spence, George H. Ray, John P. Salzer, Peter Newburg, T. A. Lavake, A. Boyd, J. A. Elliott, E. M. Wing and C. S. Van Auker.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 28.—According to reports this morning the storm's entire loss will be $12,000,000, $12,000,000 of which is to the cotton crop.

Schooners Swept to Sea
PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 28.—During the storm a number of fishing schooners were seen to part their cables and were blown down the bay, apparently doomed to wreck. They have not been reported yet.

TEN FOREIGNERS
MADE CITIZENS

Ten foreigners were made citizens yesterday by Judge Fruit on the day that the new naturalization law went into effect and the old law became obsolete. With the many warnings issued that no papers would be issued today, several applications for citizens' papers were received by Clerk of the Court George Wright.

Yesterday was the last day and during the day ten appeared to become citizens of the United States hereafter, swearing away allegiance to their home country and accepting the United States as a fatherland. The new citizens are:

Zelma Kuller, Shelby; John Krause, La Crosse; Carl Meyer, Onalaska; Jens Peterson, Onalaska; John Moilein, Shelby; Peter J. Hammes, La Crosse; William Friske, Rockland; Andreas Anderson, La Crosse; Albert Nelson, La Crosse, and Wentzes Nowitzke, La Crosse.

KILLED HIS WIFE
AFTER A TRIAL

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 28.—Henry Sussman, accused of the murder of his wife at the Glenwood hotel, was arrested at midnight in the Nashville hotel, near the scene of the murder. He was detected because of his attempted suicide. He was found with five gas jets turned on. The police claim after his arrest he confessed, saying: "I killed her after a trial."

LION AND MOUSE
WAS GREAT SHOW

In "The Lion and the Mouse," La Crosse was last night given a dramatic treat the equal of which has not been seen here in years. The company was perfectly balanced and every part from the leading to the lowliest was handled with a mastery seldom seen in troupes visiting cities of this size.

In order to bring the attraction to La Crosse Managers Gage and Wolhuter had to offer an exceptional premium, with the result that an exceptionally small percentage of the receipts stayed in the theater's strong box. Long before the curtain went up the standing room sign only was needed. It was one of the largest and most select audiences—and the most appreciative ever seen in the La Crosse theater.

The story of the play dealt with the impeachment of Judge Rossmore by the mighty money interests, to whom he had been adverse in several decisions. The Lion, John Burkett Ryder, by Paul Everton, was outwitted by the Mouse, Shirley Rossmore (Josephine Lovett), who saved her father, by her wit and strategy. Josephine Lovett as Shirley Rossmore, Macey Harlam as Jefferson Ryder, the octopus' son, John S. Robertson as Fitzroy Bagley, private secretary, and Paul Everton as John Burkett Ryder, the richest man in the world, were all stars. The other parts were interpreted in an exceptional manner and there was no point of weakness in the entire production. The scenic effects were elaborate and attractive.

All in all it may be said that "The Lion and the Mouse" was the best production seen here in years.

CUBAN REPUBLIC NOW A MATTER OF A FEW HOURSINJURE DRIVER;
ENTER STORE

While August Weimer, a farmer of Smith's coulee, was unloading produce at Vollmar & Jost's grocery, Fourteenth and Pine streets, this morning, his team became frightened and running over a pile of watermelons made a bee line for the big plate glass window. They missed the window, but entered the open door of the store, carrying a part of the casing with them. Vollmar and Jost escaped through the back door, while Ole Nelson, employed as a clerk, stood his ground and succeeded in getting the horses out of the store. In the melee, Mr. Weimer's leg was broken.

SHEA CASE READY FOR JURY TODAY

Effort, with a partial forecast of success, to finish the suit of Shay & O'Shea, general contractors, against the city of La Crosse for $8,791.04 damages, will be made today in United States court. The plaintiff and defendant have almost finished their testimony and expect the case to go to the jury late this afternoon.

This morning John Vollmar, former member of the board of public works, the city engineer, then assistant, and Weather Forecaster G. R. Oberholzer, were called to the stand. The examination of the city official and former member of the board of public works, related chiefly to the contract specifications, the manner of laying the sewer pipe and the discovery of the cracks. Mr. Vollmar told of his examination of the sewer and the finding of mud in the bottom after the flow of water had stopped. The testimony of City Engineer Woods related to the same circumstances.

Weather Forecaster Oberholzer told of the condition of the river at the time and the height of water with the rains during the months in which the sewer was in course of construction.

Grand Jury Still Out
The grand jury is still out considering indictments. It is not expected the jury will return for a day or two.

MAY HAINES HURT

Miss May Haines, a girl employed at the "Oyster Bay" oyster stand at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon fell from the J. I. Case exhibition stand and seriously sprained her ankle. She was taken to La Crosse hospital where the injury was attended to.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY

An employee of Stout's tintype gallery at the fair was arrested today charged with robbing a drunken Melrose farmer of $20. He was released for lack of evidence.

GOES WITH CULPRITS FOR REMARK

"Let's take them away from the cops."

"You come along, too," replied Patrolman Duggan, as he grabbed John Berg and took him to the central police station. The remark cost Berg $7.50 this morning.

For the amusement of downtown fair crowds, Ole Carl and Carl Ott, both of La Crosse, engaged in a fistic encounter in front of the Batavian National bank about 9:30 last night. The combatants rolled in the street and had a free-for-all, no holds or blows barred, fight. Several blows had been exchanged and a round was drawing to a close when Patrolman

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
HAVANA, Sept. 28.—The republic of Cuba's fate will be decided within a couple of hours.

A session of congress was to have been called at 2:30 this afternoon to make for peace, and although hopes are small, latest reports indicate there will be a late session of congress at 4:30.

The liberals have not yet decided to attend congress this afternoon. There cannot be a quorum without them.

Zayas, it is rumored, told Taft this morning the government has issued orders to have him (Zayas), J. G. and J. M. Gomez, Demetrio Castillo and O. G. Velen shot in Moatt of Principe castle.

Veteran liberals who are seeking peace announce it is impossible to secure a quorum in congress by 2:30. Taft will give them until 4:30.

It appears likely there will be a quorum.

All ships are ready to land men. Capt. Roosevelt, of marines, says he has been ordered to stand by for a landing any minute after 2 o'clock this afternoon, but not to move without orders.

HAVANA, Sept. 28.—The moderates are in an ugly mood. They threaten resistance and one general declares he will die fighting the Americans, but will never surrender.

Gen. Betancourt, commanding 2,000 government troops in Matanzas, is opposed to the Yankees, and it is reported his entire command will follow him.

Gen. Rubi, a veteran of "Ninety-eight" resides at Matanzas. He is a graduate of the French military school and is a famous strategist. He could muster 4,000. The moderates claim he is with them in any action.

The public mind is greatly inflamed, but a general revolt is highly improbable.

The plain people are indifferent. America's strongest opponents think the sweetest revenge will be to enroll the European powers by forays of small bands upon the property of European citizens.

Didn't Like Root

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—Desplances, the Italian ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, has resigned. He is now in Rome and his successor is not yet chosen.

It is rumored that he did not like Secretary Root.

Wolfe appeared and arrested the fighters. Patrolman Duggan reached the scene shortly and assisted in the arrest.

While taking the offenders to the central station, Berg blurted in with his untimely remark. He accompanied the pair to the station, Patrolman Duggan doing the honors.

This morning Carl and Ott entered pleas of guilty to fighting and were fined $2 and costs each, $4.50. Berg received $5 and, or $7.50. The fines were paid. Berg's fine was made heavier because of his insolence and also for resisting an officer and attempting to start a riot.

GEDNEY PICKLE CO'S. BIG DISPLAY

HOUSEWIVES DELIGHT IN SAMPLING MANY SORTS

Factory Output This Year is Greater Than Ever

The display of the J. S. Gedney Pickle company in the Arts building at the Interstate fair served to furnish an accurate idea of the proportions to which the Onalaska plant has grown, as well as to convince visitors of the excellence of their product.

Mr. T. V. Phelps, a director of the company, is in charge of the display, and he held a constant levee in front of the booth, the women in particular delighting in sampling the various products and passing judgment on their merits. Needless to say, the verdict was always flattering to the company.

The display is an attractive one. Barrels of assorted pickles with glass ends for display purposes, quantities of canned corn, baked beans, tomatoes, peas, pumpkin, kraut, neatly labeled, were arranged about the booth appropriately for exhibition. The display attracted much attention, being one of the most popular in the building.

The Gedney company was organized in 1892. It is devoted to the canning of northern grown vegetables. It has enjoyed a rapid growth, the demand for its output having become so general that the capacity of the factory is taxed to meet orders. This year's output will be as follows:

Peas—23,000 cases.
Corn—26,000 cases.
Cucumber pickles, all varieties—6,000 barrels.
Kraut, prepared—20,000 cases.
Kraut, bulk—5,000 barrels.
Tomatoes—10,000 cases.
Total number of packages of all kinds—90,000.

Secretary E. T. Johnson, who was at the fair today, said that the company has accepted orders for forty cars of bulk kraut, which will be shipped to various parts of the country. The company's outlook for continued and growing success is most excellent.

GUND'S DISPLAY OF RAW MATERIAL

HOPS AND BARLEY AND QUAIL AND BEER

Home of Peerless Proves a Highly Attractive Exhibit

The Gund Brewing company exhibit at the Interstate fair is unique this year in that it presents the brewing of malted liquors from the agricultural point of view, the display being entirely concerned with raw materials. The booth is particularly interesting, rural art having been used with fetching effect.

The walls of the booth show a hand painted farm scene, the ceiling the blue canopy of the sky. In the background at the top is a splendid painting of the great brewery with all its branches. To the left is a large framed photograph of the gold medal awarded by the St. Louis world's exposition, while other premiums and medals are artistically displayed. To the right is an art product, a painting showing a party dining on a club veranda, the beverage used being Peerless beer, while a tally-ho party is approaching at a stiff trot in evident haste to join the party. In the midst of these surroundings is a shock of barley surmounted by Old Glory, and about its base is a covey of quail, feeding upon the nourishing grain.

Cases and bales of hops, receptacles filled with threshed barley and other materials used in the brewing of beer were scattered about with the carelessness of art. Cards showing the high percentage of food elements and the low percentage of alcohol in Peerless beer and other merits of the beverage occupied conspicuous positions. Bottles and cases of beer, their attractive labels adding to the color of the scene, completed a display over which Advertising Manager Harry Long presided with his usual cordial smile. That it appealed to the visitors was attested by the crowds that loitered about the booth, drinking with their eyes what, inside the fair grounds, was denied their thirsty lips.

SIGNAL WAS FATAL

IRONWOOD, Mich., Sept. 28.—Victor Rantali of Monticello was killed by a cage in Shaft A of the Newport mine. He was shoveling debris from the cage when the latter shot suddenly up the shaft, Rantali being caught between the cage and the shaft plates. The brakeman said he received a signal to hoist the cage but no one seems to know where the signal came from. Rantali was twenty-eight years old. He is survived by a widow and three children.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Sept. 28.—Theodore A. Anderson, a prominent Chippewa county farmer, decided at 3 o'clock this morning to visit the Twin Cities. He boarded a freight car at Irvine, and proceeded to go to sleep. Soon he was attacked from behind by two tramps, who were in the car at the time Anderson entered, and whom he had not seen. One of the tramps knocked him insensible with a club. When Anderson regained his consciousness he found himself almost naked lying alongside of the track. His clothing was scattered about and $65 taken from his pocket. The robbers had, however, overlooked

CROWDS AT BEAVER DAM FAIR

BEAVER DAM, Wis., Sept. 28.—If Secretary Harvey had ordered the weather for the Dodge county fair, it could not have been finer than it has been this year. There were 41,000 people on the fair grounds yesterday, which was a record breaker, trains bringing in fifty-two coaches filled with people and teams and rigs coming in a line from every direction.

People who have been to all the large county fairs in the United States say the Dodge county fair beats them all in point of attendance and exhibits. Many fairs allow any kind of a game of chance that is not too rank, if it will only pay them the price for the privilege, but this is not true of the Dodge county fair. Its officers will not grant any privilege that is not purely legitimate.

KILLED IN MIXUP ON THE GRIDIRON

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 28.—Ole Reism is dead as the result of an accident received while at work on the new building of the Union National Bank. Reism was mixing mortar on the sidewalk and sending it up by means of a block and tackle arrangement to workmen on a scaffold thirty feet above. Just as an empty mortar pail weighing about twenty-five pounds was being lowered from the scaffold it slipped off the hook. The bucket struck Reism on the back of the head, knocking him down and fracturing his skull. He at once was taken to the hospital, but he was beyond medical aid, and after lingering some hours he died.

CANNOT FIND ARMY OFFICER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—Orders have been published by the war department announcing the discharge from service of the United States of First Lieutenant E. Caulfield of the Philippine scouts.

At the time of the earthquake in San Francisco, Lieut. Caulfield of the scouts was on leave of absence in that city. He has not been heard from since. He was a native of New York and served in the sixth infantry with credit during the Spanish war. He participated in the battle of San Juan Hill. Later he was promoted to a first lieutenant and transferred to the Ninth infantry.

SAVED JUST IN TIME

MANKATO, Minn., Sept. 28.—While hunting at Loon Lake Harry Davis and Willie Bosin of this city narrowly escaped drowning. They became lost in a dense fog and in some manner overturned their boat, both being precipitated into the water. They managed to cling to the overturned boat, until their cries attracted the attention of Orval McDonald and Charles Moses, who also were hunting at the lake. The latter two finally succeeded in locating the boys after they had been in the water three-quarters of an hour, were chilled through and were about to give up in despair.

CROWDS VISIT CORN PALACE

MITCHELL, S. D., Sept. 28.—The crowds of Tuesday were vastly increased at Mitchell's corn palace yesterday. The number of people coming from various directions numbered 5,000. A full 1,000 came from Egan and intermediate towns along the line. Three special trains and six regulars made the crowd an immense one. This afternoon the corn palace was crowded to its utmost capacity, and great enthusiasm prevailed over the playing of the Klites band and the vaudeville attractions. The weather today was ideal, being cool and pleasant, regular Mitchell corn palace weather. Tomorrow is Sioux City day, and the indications point to a large throng gathering in the city from along the line of the route traversed by the special train.

GIRLS SAVE TOWN FROM BURNING

TOWNSEND, Del., Sept. 28.—If its plucky girl fire fighters had not come to the rescue, Townsend would not now be on the map. With a brisk, southeast wind blowing and no fire apparatus nearer than thirty miles, a stable standing next to the hotel in the business center took fire last night. It seemed inevitable that the flames would leap from one wooden building to another and leave nothing but a blackened ruin where once had stood Townsend. The few persons about were alarmed when they saw three buildings one of them 200 yards catch fire from the blazing stable. So the men of the population broke helter-skelter for the telephone and rang up Wilmington, calling for help. Not so with the girls. While the men were trying to get engines from the city about fifty girls formed a bucket brigade. They stood near one another in line and as fast as the buckets could be filled were passed along the line and the nearest girl to the fire threw water on it.

SHRIEKS TO POLICE OVER PHONE TO SAVE HER

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 28.—Capt. Dooley answered a telephone call at the police station yesterday afternoon. From the other end of the line came a succession of shrieks of "Save me" and the sound of blows. Then the telephone was disconnected. The captain learned where the call came from and the police were hurried to that address. They found that Robert Neill a plumber, had quarreled with his wife, and that while she was attempting to telephone he had attacked her. Neill saw the policemen coming and fled from the back door. Policeman Hoyt chased him ten blocks before he got him. The wife, though covered with the marks of her beating, refused to appear against her husband.

NATURALIZATION LAW IN FORCE

The new naturalization law went into force today. The principal provision of the new law is that each applicant must be of good moral character, must be able to speak the English language and must file his application ninety days before it is acted upon by the court. The cost is increased from $2 under the old law to $4 and the class of courts entitled to make out papers is restricted.

ISSUES 100 HUNTING LICENSES

Farmers from about the county in the city to see the fair are taking advantage of the trip to secure hunting licenses. Yesterday County Clerk Rawlinson issued over 100 licenses to persons taking in the fair.
Hunting licenses are not the only ones sought, several couples securing marriage permits and enjoying the fair as a honeymoon trip.

RULER OF ELKS IS INJURED

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 28.—A large automobile driven by Carlton Wall, an Alameda capitalist, collided with an electric car shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday at East Sixteenth street and Ninth avenue. In the automobile were Mr. Wall, Mrs. G. R. French, a chauffeur, State Senator Lukens, Judge Melvin, grand exalted ruler of the Elks of the United States, and Mrs. Melvin.

Mrs. Melvin was thrown on a picket fence and probably fatally injured. Judge Melvin was thrown on the cement pavement and painfully injured. Wall and the chauffeur escaped with a few scratches.
Wall was driving the automobile.

COFFEE WAS IT People Slowly Learn the Facts

"All my life I have been such a slave to coffee that the very aroma of it was enough to set my nerves quivering. I kept gradually losing my health but I used to say 'nonsense' it don't hurt me. Slowly I was forced to admit the truth and the final result was that my whole nervous force was shattered.
"My heart became weak and uncertain in its action and that frightened me. Finally my physician told me, about a year ago, that I must stop drinking coffee or I could never expect to be well again.
"I was in despair for the very thought of the medicine I had tried so many times nauseated me. Of course I thought of Postum but could hardly bring myself to give up the coffee. Finally I concluded that I owed it to myself to give Postum a trial. So I got a package and carefully followed the directions, and what a delicious, nourishing, rich drink it was. Do you know I found it very easy to shift from the coffee to Postum and not mind the change at all. Almost immediately after I made the change I found myself better and as the days went by I kept on improving. My nerves grew sound and steady, I slept well and felt strong and well balanced all the time. Now I am completely cured, with the old nervousness and sickness all gone. In every way I am well once more." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
It pays to give up the drink that acts on some like a poison, for health is the greatest fortune one can have.

"There's a reason." at a fast clip down Ninth avenue when it plunged head on into a speeding electric car. The collision threw the automobile twenty feet into the gutter, but it did not roll over. No one on the street car was injured.

The wounded were taken to a nearby house and physicians were quickly called to render assistance. Late this evening Mrs. Melvin was in a precarious condition.

READY TO GO AFTER OIL OCTOPUS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—Attorney General Moody arrived in Washington this morning and gave consideration at once to the report prepared by Messrs. Kellogg and Morrison, special counsel for the government, upon the methods to be pursued in the prosecution of the Standard Oil company under the anti-trust law.
There is no question that the report finds that the government has ample grounds upon which to proceed legally for the dissolution of the greatest of all trusts. But in what judicial district to proceed and how best to act in order to secure a judgment, and numerous other questions must be determined before the government's suit is instituted. As Cleveland is the headquarters of the Standard Oil company probably suit will be brought in the federal court at that city.
The prosecution contemplates the breaking up of the Standard Oil company in order to restore competition, which has been effectively killed by the methods pursued by that trust.

HEIR TO FIFTH OF $4,000,000

WEBSTER CITY, Iowa, Sept. 28.—Friends of Miss Olive Chaffin of Ocheydan, Iowa, have every reason to believe that the young lady is one of the heirs to an estate valued at $4,000,000 or more. The inheritance comes by the death of a bachelor uncle by the name of William Chaffin, who has just died at Big Timber, Mont. He made his millions in mining ventures in that state.
The will directs that his property be divided among the children of his brother, the father of Miss Chaffin, who died several years ago in South Dakota. Following the father's death the children were placed in an orphanage at Owatonna, Minn. When six years old Olive was taken from the institution and placed in the family of A. V. Randall, where she has since made her home. The mother of the children married again and is said to be now living at Carl Junction, Mo. The only heirs to this large estate now are Mrs. Stella Smith of Philadelphia, Mrs. Jennie Ash of Los Angeles, Mrs. May Stewart of San Francisco, Sergeant Ernest E. Chaffin, U. S. A., of Fort McPherson, Ga., and Miss Olive Chaffin of Ocheydan.

MASONIC OFFICERS ARE MISSING

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 28.—J. C. McBurney of Boise, Idaho, right eminent commander of the Knights Templar of Idaho, has mysteriously disappeared. He was last seen in Spokane Monday morning. He was to institute a commandery at Coeur d'Alene Idaho, that night, but never reached that town, nor can any trace of him be found. Beside being an eminent mason he is colonel in command in Idaho's national guard and a rich citizen of Boise.

GO TO PASTEUR INSTITUTE TO ESCAPE RESULTS

Mr. Wm. Schilling and wife who were savagely bitten by their large Dane dog which weighs 150 pounds Tuesday morning left Tuesday night for Chicago where they will undergo treatment at the Pasteur Institute to avoid any serious complications which may arise from the bites of the beast. They expect to be back home within a week or ten days.

HIGH SCHOOL COST ENORMOUS AS WAS PREDICTED

The cost of the new high school, which was to have been built for $100,000, will reach about $200,000. It was pointed out by Alderman Bachellor at the time that this would be true, but his estimate, now proved correct, was scoffed at by other aldermen.

THE TRIBUNE'S FAIR EXHIBIT

The Tribune was the only La Crosse newspaper represented at the Interstate fair by an exhibit. Miss Margaret Friell, attired in a dress made of Tribunes, was so attractive that the management was urged to enter her and her gown as an exhibit. Cartoonist Callahan's lightning sketches of fair visitors, drawn in the presence of sightseers, kept a constant jam of spectators about the booth. The rest ward to which patrons were invited was liberally patronized by tired and grateful people. All the news as it occurred was bulletined conspicuously, and the afternoon papers were on the grounds promptly, no paper excepting The Tribune being seen within the gates. The display of premiums, particularly the souvenir book of Tribune cartoons, appealed to the public, the result being an addition of several hundred subscribers to the list of The Tribune, and offered every facility and assistance in promptly getting the news and conveying it to the public. The Tribune believes its exhibit was perfectly satisfactory to all concerned.

A CHANCE TO HELP LOCAL CAPITAL

An investigation into the value of the La Crosse Rubber Mills has resulted in the Board of Trade committee concluding that the plant is a most desirable one and that it should be retained by all means. It is certainly true that to let it drift away for want of encouragement would be a great blunder. It is not known at present what Messrs. Hirschheimer, M. Funke, Withee, Doerflinger, Van Steenwyk and Raymond would ask in the way of a bonus for leaving their plant in the city of their nativity. It is likely that Messrs. Hirschheimer and Funke, who with the manager control the voting stock, will soon formulate a definite proposal that may be met by popular subscription or city grant.

PARTY TIES CAN BE BROKEN

Although it is generally conceded to be the best politics to cast a straight party vote, yet there are times and certain instances when it is a virtue to scratch one's ticket. It is the duty of everyone to scratch a man on his ticket who is not possessed of those manly qualities which make a good officer, and to vote for a candidate, even on the opposition, who is a worthy man, even of a different political faith. If such an instance exists in your case, do as your conscience tells you to do—vote for the honorable man even though it splits your ticket. Teach the people of your party to put up honorable men for office.—The La Crosse Magazine.

It is gratifying to learn that the damage done to the Gulf coast cities by the hurricane and tidal wave was slight. Owing to the absence of telegraphic connections, it was feared during yesterday morning that the Galveston disaster had been outdone.

The Tribune desires to congratulate the fair management upon another successful fair. While the aggregate attendance was a little short of last year, the difference was due to the unusual spectacle of regular army artillery maneuvers afforded by a combination of chance and enterprise last year, that could not be duplicated this time. Subtracting that remarkable drawing card, it is almost certain that the fair itself proved a greater drawing card this year than last. Yesterday's attendance broke all records for Thursdays.

The weather man has been good to the La Crosse Interstate fair, even though he had to make the Gulf states suffer to maintain the ratio.

Like reducing the number of aldermen would save little in election expenses as the law demands a separate polling place for every six hundred voters; and the new redistricting planned would likely necessitate "precincts" within the wards.

And then, it's more metropolitan-sounding, when election returns are counted, to hear from the "Twentieth" and the "Twenty-first."

Why not cut election expenses by having but one United States senator and let Mr. Bailey be "it."

Well, we could stand this rain today. The fair's a success anyway.

Stensland is lucky, considering all those suicides he's responsible for.

"Success in business is a small eminence—a platform erected inch-high above the pit of failure." And to stop advertising is to open a trap-door in the platform.

Want ads need not be "next to pure reading matter," for—as a rule—they are, themselves, real reading matter, of the widest human interest.

SAD FATE OF AN EMPRESS

(Special Tribune Service.)

BRUSSELS, Sept. 28.—King Leopold has made haste to deny the reports that have been circulated for several weeks regarding the alleged death of his sister, the insane Empress Carlotta, widow of the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian of Mexico. Though some persons do not hesitate to cast doubt upon his Majesty's denials it may be stated authoritatively that the empress is not dead. But she is so ill just now that only faint hopes are entertained for her recovery.

The story of the poor, insane empress has often been told, but the tragedy of her life is so interwoven with one of the most thrilling chapters of the New World history that it will bear a repetition at the present time, when it is but a matter of a short time, perhaps of days, until her earthly miseries are relieved by death.

Born a princess, and educated to wear a crown, Carlotta has passed forty of her sixty-five years within the walls of an asylum for the insane. Married at seventeen, a queen at 24 and a lunatic at 26, she was bereft of father, husband, empire and reason in the short space of eighteen months, and then, by the irony of fate, forever banished from human memory. Her career was almost kinetoscopic in the rapidity of its changes—promising in its inception, magnificent in its rise, pathetic, dramatic, tragic in its decline and fall.

Although Carlotta was more potential in Mexican history during her short reign in that country than was her imperial husband himself, the records of that time ignore her efforts, belittle her achievements and refer to her endowments of executive ability, political sagacity, mental culture and strong womanly character in the most impersonal and incidental manner. As a matter of fact it was her regal training, her dominant spirit, her constant insistence, which prevailed over the week, vacillating, easily influenced and almost effeminate character of the Emperor Maximilian.

Carlotta was exactly 24 years of age, Maximilian 32, when their eyes beheld for the first time the land across the water where they hoped to regenerate a nation. Their entry into the City of Mexico was a triumphal one. The splendors of their court were unprecedented, for Carlotta knew well how to be an Empress. But the Mexicans fought bravely for their freedom, the United States interfered, and Napoleon was ordered to withdraw his troops. Here again Carlotta was dominant. She would go herself to France and intercede with the Emperor Napoleon.

What could be more pathetic than the spectacle of the girl empress pleading with the Emperor of France and the Pope of Rome for the means and soldiers to save from ruin the empire of her husband, at a time when Maximilian had already been many weeks dead.

Carlotta's ambition and pride were crushed, her heart broken. Young, beautiful, ambitious, loving, on the very threshold of youth and hope, she was seized and torn from the world by the relentless hand of unreason, and cast into the midnight of utter blank.

For forty years she has been banished to an oblivion that is worse than death. Those who recall her to mind as a proud and imperious beauty, would fail to recognize her today, all bent and broken, her snow-white hair framing a face waxen white in complexion and deeply furrowed with lines of pain and grief.

She resides in the old royal castle of Bouchout, a few hours drive from Brussels. Since she entered this retreat she has been seen by no one outside her household, which is conducted in an imperial manner. Every month of the year Carlotta holds mimic court. She presents the members of her household with gifts, which are formally received—the pictures taken from the walls of the palace are presented, and then the following day are restored to their places—merely to indulge her mental fancy.

Spacious grounds surround the palace and here the insane empress drives about frequently in her coach of state, with her cavaliers in attendance. Here too, she sometimes wanders among the flowers, planning improvements, as she did about the grounds of Chapultepec, in the City of Mexico.

King Leopold has reason to hope that the life of his sister will be prolonged, and that she will not succumb to her present illness, for her death will give rise to no end of complication with the reigning house of Austria, in consequence of the disappearance of her vast fortune, which is believed to have been wasted in its entirety in the Congo schemes of her brother, guardian and trustee, King Leopold.

OUR NEW MINISTER

The minister's sister—in small communities the phrase is almost as familiar as the postmaster's daughter or the mayor's son. Denman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryder in their comedy of backwood's life in Hardscrabble, N. H., "Our New Minister" which comes here on Monday, Oct. 1, gives us a glimpse of the Dominic's Sister. When the play is seen at the La Crosse theater it will be seen that the sister of the minister is not always necessarily prim and demure and narrow. When the relative of the pastor plays rag-time for the first time in the town of Hardscrabble she shocks the few of the older members of the congregation, the while she wins to her side by the harmonies, the majority of the flock. The part of the minister's sister is played by Miss Edith Millward and is a captivating part of the comedy.

"Man and Superman."

This will be the first time Mr. Lorraine has visited this section in this much talked about comedy. Mr. Lorraine is by no means unknown to local theater goers, as thousands of people have read of him, if they have not seen him. A splendid reputation he has made as a prominent actor throughout the entire United States. He has been identified with dramatic affairs of this country for the past five or six years, coming to the United States from England to take a prominent position in one of the leading companies controlled by Charles Frohman. "Man and Superman" has been given so much universal praise, that it is nothing more than natural that local theater goers should find interest centered very strongly toward this play on the forthcoming engagement of its presentation.

This play will be at the La Crosse theater Tuesday, Oct. 2.

STORE AND POST-OFFICE ROBBED

MOIRA, Minn., Sept. 28.—The general store of Andrew Skoglund at Brunswick, in which is located the postoffice, was broken into last night and a quantity of stamps amounting to about $50 besides cigars, knives, revolvers and other articles were taken. The thieves are thought to be local parties and probably the same ones that broke into the Melligan saloon in this city Sunday evening, procuring $23 from the cash register.

KILLED BY FALLING PAIL

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 28.—John Kennedy of Troy, N. Y., captain and right half back of the Lawrenceville football team, is dead as the result of injuries received yesterday in a practice game between the varsity and scrub elevens. A ruptured blood vessel in the brain, which resulted from a scrimmage, was the cause.

While making a long end run with the ball, Capt. Kennedy was downed heavily by a high tackle. Immediately several of the scrubs piled on him. When the players lined up for the next scrimmage Kennedy complained of his hurts to such an extent that it was decided to withdraw him from the game. But neither he nor his companions thought at the time that he was seriously injured.

It was noticed that Kennedy kept his feet with difficulty and was suffering keenly, although he was able to walk to the gymnasium, and thence to the dressing rooms on the second floor. There he fell in a faint and did not regain consciousness.

A physician worked over the young man for thirty-five minutes, but at no time did he show signs of yielding to the treatment to revive him. A post-mortem examination showed that the small blood vessel at the base of the brain had been broken.

Capt. Kennedy was one of the most popular men in the school. He was actively identified with several of its organizations and the undergraduate life in general. He was 19 years of age and was preparing to enter Princeton university next fall.

Young Kennedy was a son of W. H. Kennedy, a wealthy merchant of 1620 Seventh avenue, Troy. Notification of the accident was sent to his family which is spending the summer at Chippewa bay, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.

The accident is likely to lessen the enthusiasm for football at the institution. It was only the fourth practice of the season and was the day that signals were to have been tried.

Capt. Kennedy has a brother at Harvard.

CIVIL SERVICE LAW POWERLESS TO SAVE EMPLOYEE

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 28.—Appointing officers in the state government may remove employees practically at their pleasure and the civil service commission is practically powerless to prevent it, nor can the commission hold hearings to determine the facts in relation to a dismissal. All that is necessary for an appointing officer to do in order to rid himself of an undesirable employee is to file with the civil service commission a statement setting forth that the employee is dismissed, and stating sufficient reasons other than political or religious.

If these reasons on their face are sufficient the dismissed employee has no recourse through the commission, but will have to bring mandamus action in the courts. In the state institutions no reasons for dismissal have to be stated.

This is the effect of the civil service law as set forth in an official opinion by Attorney General Sturdevant in reply to a request from F. E. Dody, secretary of the civil service commission. The request came about by reason of the inquiries that were made of the commission by employees and by present and prospective appointing officers as to the power of appointing officers to make removals and as to the rights of the employees so removed to protest, and as to the power or duty of the civil service commission to hear such controversies and determine the facts and act thereon.

PATRICK DINEEN DIES AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

Daniel Dineen, the North side patrolman, of 817 Berlin street, received word yesterday to the effect that his brother, Patrick Dineen, of the Soldiers' home of Milwaukee, had passed away after a few years illness with asthma and bronchitis.

Deceased was about 64 years of age and served in the civil war four years and took part in some well known skirmishes.

He contracted the disease in the army and it remained with him ever after and had been gradually growing worse until the end came yesterday.

The funeral will take place Sunday from Black Earth, his former home, near Madison.

PROHIBITION CANDIDATE SPEAKS HERE

Dr. E. L. Eaton of Madison, prohibition candidate for governor, will speak here at Woodman hall next Monday, Oct. 1.

LAUNCH PARTY

Attorney E. C. Higbee entertained the United States court officials, attending attorneys and jurors on the launch Jap yesterday afternoon after the close of the court session at 4 o'clock.

The party left the federal building at 4 o'clock going to the river front where a start was made. Cruise was made in the waters around La Crosse for about two hours after which lunch was served.

The attorneys, Judge Sanborn and jurors enjoyed the trip.

Ocean Wave Seized

Constable Louis Omerberg this morning seized the ocean wave at the Interstate fair grounds on an attachment secured by S. T. Harvey and son, who claim a bill of about $40 against Fred Gilmore, manager of the attraction.

Gilmore deposited $40 with Constable Omerberg, guaranteeing the debt. The case will be heard before Judge Hunt and settled upon its merits.

A tramp was arrested on the grounds this afternoon for going into one of the eating establishments, ordering a meal, and refusing to pay for it, and then raising a "rough house" with the proprietor.

A fight occurred on the pike between the proprietor of the "nigger baby" booth and a farmer who threw several base balls at him when he went to the further end of the enclosure to pick up the balls. The fender captured the farmer and after soundly beating him made him pay 10 cents for each ball thrown.

A baseball player named Schaffer found charging admission at the race track gate he had been appointed to watch, was taken from the grounds.

CHILD PASSES AWAY

Margaret Kowalko, 8-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kowalko, 1510 Caledonia street, passed away yesterday morning after a short illness. Mr. Kowalko is employed at the Oeltjendier cigar factory on Caledonia street and was formerly a resident of the South side.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the residence, Rev. G. W. Thurnow of the German Lutheran church at the corner of Avon and St. Paul streets officiating and Sletten Brothers in charge with interment in the Oak Grove cemetery. A large number of friends attended the funeral.

PRESIDENT VIEWS TARGET PRACTICE

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

Returning he will reach here Sunday at 11 a. m.

Mrs. Overholdt of Minneapolis is the guest of Mrs. Will Ott, 1532 Ferry street.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS.

Georges Clemenceau.

Georges Clemenceau, the most picturesque figure in the present French Cabinet, was born, Sept. 28, 1841, at Mouilleron-en-Pareds. In the politics of France M. Clemenceau is a sort of Joseph Chamberlain in that, while not being the leader, he has the more aggressive and daring intellect. He has passed through every phase of stormy political life in France. It is not improbable that he would have ended his days in America had it not been for the Franco-German war and the break-up of the empire. These events brought home many men who had fought for the empire in its days of glory and omnipotence, among them Clemenceau. He is a former senator and still a journalist. He was educated at Nantes and went to Paris in 1860. From 1856 to 1869 he resided in the United States. While residing on this side of the Atlantic he married the daughter of J. Plumber of New York, from whom he has since been separated.

PEACHES and PEARSFor Preserving.*Two Cars Tomorrow.*JOHN C. BURNS FRUIT HOUSE.*COLORADO A GREAT STATE*Makes Fine Showing of Agricultural and Horticultural Interests at the Fair

"To prove to you that I am honest in my representation that this Colorado exhibit is educational I'll simply ask you the question I have propounded to more than 50,000 public school scholars at the leading middle state fairs during the last few weeks. How much larger are the whole of the six New England states together with either Illinois or Wisconsin than the state of Colorado? No, that is not intended as a 'catch' question, but thousands of high school boys and girls, as well as their teachers without thinking much about it have answered it incorrectly. Look it up if you desire and you'll find Colorado the larger."

With the foregoing introduction Prof. W. G. Brandenburg, who has charge of the Colorado state exhibit at the fair grounds and who seems to know Colorado like a book, in an entertaining fashion told The Tribune man more about that wonderful state than he could have possibly learned from books because he reinforced his statements by an exhibit of fruits and grain such as is rarely seen in any part of our country. Cards bearing the grower's name and affidavits in many cases as to yields per acre served as a "clincher" that Colorado was able to deliver the goods and courted the fullest investigation. The splendid showing made created much favorable comment, too.

"This is a revelation to us that you can grow such fruits and grains in Colorado as these," greeted Prof. Brandenburg on every hand, but seeing is believing and we are not from Missouri, either. Colorado may well be proud of the exhibit which is touring the middle west and proving a genuine attraction wherever shown.

"Colorado is 'long' on all the material elements that enter into the making of a commonwealth of great wealth and population, but we are short on the population. That is, frankly stated, the chief object of this missionary tour—to acquaint eastern people with the marvelous possibilities of our state which William E. Curtis, the world-renowned correspondent for the Chicago Record-Herald, says is the richest state considering population, of any in the union (per capita wealth $2,780).

"Please dismiss from your mind the impression that generally prevails that the chief reliance of Colorado is in her mineral wealth. From our fields and orchards last year there was taken in revenue to add to the bank accounts of our people a total of more than $75,000,000 while from our rich mines we only extracted about $45,000,000. For many years minerals were the leading source of our commercial uplift, but as you may judge from this exhibit we are doing things in agricultural lines. The use of irrigation methods, together with our peculiarly perfect climate and continuous sunshine insure greater crops per acre, and better quality than can be secured in portions of our country where these conditions do not obtain. We have more land under irrigation than any other state. We make no pretensions in the way of being a great wheat producing state, but as a matter of fact we produce more wheat to the acre than any other state including Canada. This is according to the United States census reports. Land values are increasing rapidly and the future is most propitious for our agriculturists. We are favored greatly in that we produce such a variety of farm products. Not only can we raise the best in quality, and yield in ordinary cereals, but our products include the most profitable known to the American farmer. The sugar beet for example, possesses more sugar and a larger tonnage than those grown elsewhere. Alfalfa, which is known as the most nutritious of all grasses yields three and four splendid crops per season. The Rocky Ford melon has a national reputation. Our potatoes are the largest and most perfect grown. Swine and lambs fattened on San Luis valley feed peas command higher prices than corn fed meat. Our apples, peaches and pears are not surpassed in flavor and keeping quality. For this reason our fruit is in active demand on eastern markets and fancy prices prevail for Colorado fruit. It is not an unusual thing for our fruit growers to net from $400 to $600 per acre from their orchards. At the St. Louis World's fair we were awarded more premiums on our fruit display than any state competing. The fruits as shown in this exhibit have attracted unbounded interest wherever we have been. The fruits are grown in the counties of Mesa, Delta and Montrose in the vicinity of Grand Junction, Fruita, Delta, Hotchkiss, Paonia and Montrose.

Note this exhibit of wheat and oats. Only ordinary as we consider quality and yield. Nearly all of this wheat has averaged more than fifty bushels per acre and oats from 70 to 125 bushels per acre. They were grown in the Greeley district; in the vicinity of Ft. Morgan; New Windsor; Las Animas, in the Arkansas valley; Monte Vista, in the San Luis valley; Alatha, Delta, Fruita and the Plateau valley. Here are samples of grain grown in eastern Colorado where we do not irrigate. Until very recently this land was considered good for grazing purposes only. It was sold by the railroads at a trifle. Today it is not only worth five times what it commanded a couple of years since, but all large tracts are practically off the market. Our rainfall has increased greatly in eastern Colorado and is sufficient to produce very satisfactory results. The Campbell system of soil culture is bound to wonderfully increase the earning capacity of the so-called dry-lands of the west.

Colorado long since lost her frontier aspect and her splendid railway facilities bring her in close touch with the world at large. Five of the leading western trunk lines meet in Denver. The equipment in the most modern, consistent with comfort and safety to the traveler that money can provide and there is not a line running into Colorado as well as the railroads of the state proper, but what will compare favorably with any of their eastern competitors in point of service. It is only fair to say that the western railways are responsible largely for the fact of the west's marvelous development and prosperity.

The opportunities that exist in Colorado for all who are seeking new homes or new locations are so manifold that I cannot dwell upon them in detail. Unexcelled opportunities for investments in lands; for farming in all its various branches, on a scale of production and profit unknown to other localities, for the making of homes amid the most wholesome surroundings. To such varied opportunities add the advantages of nearby and widely extended markets, of railway and telephone communication, of educational facilities, as varied as they are excellent, of an intelligent, industrious, enterprising and well ordered resident population, of a climate of unsurpassed healthfulness, of landscape views, such as the Rocky mountain region alone can furnish—and you have the Colorado of today."

Prof. Brandenburg is the official lecturer of the Colorado State Commercial association with headquarters in Denver. Reliable information is furnished relative to that enterprising state by this organization.

A HIGH COLOR SEASON IN Men's Furnishings

Without the slightest doubt this season will be marked by unusual beauty in men's furnishings, especially with regard to neckwear and shirts. Smart and new effects will be worn by men who heretofore have clung to the quiet, somber shades of neckwear, while in hosiery, underwear, fancy vests and the like there have been notable improvements in the manufacturing.

MEN'S FALL NECKWEAR—Likewise the very rich new greens, grays and lavenders have a prominent place in our beautiful fall display. The styles are chiefly four-in-hands (new fall width) made of extra quality silks, and our prices are popular 50c and 25c.

INNOVATIONS IN SHIRTS—Exquisitely pretty patterns in fall shirts, regular and coat styles, with or without cuffs. The most carefully selected qualities, tailored by the leading shirt makers of America—50 cents to $2.00.

White Bread
Starves
Many People.

A piece of bread that is dry, white and very light in weight seems to the thoughtful person like so much foam or other useless and non-nourishing product.

If one rolls a piece of moist, light bread or the interior of a biscuit between the fingers, a ball of dough is the result, with an appearance of solidity that makes one question how the gastric juices of the stomach can dissolve such a wad.

It is small wonder that such food creates havoc in the way of fermentation, gas and consequent disorder.

Many persons will find great help by leaving off the ordinary bread entirely, and using in its place Grape-Nuts, in which the starchy and nitrogenous substances have been thoroughly and perfectly cooked at the factory before being sent out.

There is no possibility of this food assuming the form of wads of dough. On the contrary, it is already predigested, the starch of the grains has been changed into sugar in the process of manufacture and passes quickly and directly into circulation.

Grape-Nuts furnish the elements needed by the system to rebuild, particularly the soft grain matter in the brain and throughout the nerve centers in the body. This statement will be verified by its use. It is delicious enough to recommend itself upon trial. Made in the pure food factories of Postum Co. at Battle Creek, Mich.

PRINTS DEMOCRATIC
"CANNED" EDITORIAL IN REPUBLICAN PAPER

FORT WAYNE, Ind. Sept. 28.—Wallace W. Williamson, former postmaster of Columbus City and editor of the Daily Commercial Mail, a republican, surprised his readers last night by printing a column democratic editorial plat criticizing President Roosevelt, ridiculing Cortelyou and sneering at Hanly.

This morning when called up by long distance phone by District Committeeman Bicknell, to inquire about it, he learned of the presence of the matter in the paper for the first time. The foreman explained he used the plat in a hurry when going to press. Williamson was kept busy all day answering telephone calls for an explanation from angry republican readers.

An expressman had delivered a box of plate consigned to his democratic contemporary by mistake and Williamson in explaining, apologized for using "canned editorials, made in Indianapolis," for his contemporary.

NEW INSTRUCTORS IN THE FACULTY

(Special Tribune Dispatch.)

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 28.—The executive committee of the regents of the University of Wisconsin met today and filled a number of vacancies in the list of instructors. Fred C. Hicks, Ph. D. Johns Hopkins Medical School, was appointed instructor in German, to succeed Dr. F. W. Heisner, who has gone to Washington University. Walter E. Roloff, M. A. Northwestern University, was appointed assistant in the same department succeeding C. Lehman, resigned.

Another German assistant named is Edmund Wild, M. A. University of Texas, who will take the place of M. H. Haertel, who has been promoted to an instructorship. Leonard Bloomfield, B. A. Missouri University, has also been added to the staff of assistants in the German department.

H. W. Doughty of the University of Missouri has been appointed instructor in chemistry to succeed R. O. Smith, who resigned recently. J. E.

Patenaud was driving a car on the electric line and had just reached the bridge across the Chippewa river, when he noticed two women driving ahead of him in a buggy. As the car approached the team the horses became frightened and started to back the buggy over the side of the bridge and into the river, thirty-five feet below.

A catastrophe was impending when Patenaud reversed the current, threw on the brakes, and, leaping from the car, managed to grasp the rearing and plunging horses and bring the buggy and its occupants to safety. He narrowly escaped having his head crushed by the lashing out of one of the horses with its feet, but beyond a few scratches and bruises, he escaped uninjured.

RICH YOUTH IS IN A GELL

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 28.—Four days ago Arthur Acton was found guilty of grand larceny in beating a bartender and robbing a saloon, and sentenced to serve three years in the penitentiary. It now develops that his real name is Douglas Adams Acton, son of John Adams Acton, one of England's greatest sculptors and a personal friend of King Edward.

In jail here the young scion declared his folks in England did not know where he was and he did not want them to know.
Only recently Acton's father completed a bust of the late Queen Victoria, and shortly before this a bust of King Edward VII. The prisoner's mother is Lady Marion Hamilton of the famous Douglas-Hamilton family of the Isle of Arron.

CHILD DEAD WITH DOGS

BAY CITY, Mich., Sept. 28.—When Mrs. Samuel Abrams returned to her home on a farm in Garfield township, fifteen miles from here yesterday, she found her 5 year old daughter lying dead on the floor, her face blown off by a charge from a shotgun, and three dogs which had been in the house, chewing at the child's body. The dead girl's 8 year old brother had shot her during the absence of his mother while playing with a gun which he did not know was loaded. Mrs. Abrams fainted from the shock of finding her child and is still in a critical condition. She had left her three children alone in the house while attending a trial yesterday.

BODY TATTOOED BY WOUNDS

JAMESTOWN, N. D., Sept. 28.—A strange freak of lightning is reported from the farm of James Lees, north of this city.

Ole Olson, a hired man, while at work on a bundle wagon, was struck by lightning. The bolt hit him squarely between the shoulders, burning a hole in his clothing, and then followed the body and leg down to the foot, making its exit through the toe of his boot, and taking with it a bun-
ion. Some twenty-five or thirty wounds mark the course of the electric fluid down the man's body, looking like wounds which might have been made by a charge of buckshot.

Olson was knocked unconscious and his companions thought of course he was dead. Later, however, he revived and a physician was summoned who says that he expects the man will recover. There are few cases on record where a man was directly stricken with lightning and lived.

FRITTER FEAST

WATERLOO, Iowa, Sept. 28.—In a cozy country home out in Orange township four generations reside, the oldest of whom, William Miller, yesterday celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday.

With Mr. Miller reside his son-in-law, Ephraim Lichty, the latter's daughter, her husband and children.

Mr. Miller is a pioneer resident of this township, having settled here in 1857 coming from Somerset, P., where he was born on Sept. 26, 1827.

In celebrating his birthday, Mr. Miller and his family came to Waterloo, where they paid a visit to Mrs. Schweitzer. Mrs. Schweitzer is the compounder of an excellent variety of apple fritters, a delicacy which Mr. Miller dearly loves, and it has been a yearly custom for the Millers to visit the Schweitzers on Sept. 26 and enjoy a feast the principal dish of which consists of the apple fritters.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by O. T. Erhart, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

WANT LID LOOSENED A BIT

SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 28.—The saloon men of this city have organized to protect themselves and if possible to secure the revocation of the Sunday closing order which has been in effect several weeks. For some time they fought this order and several saloonkeepers were arrested and fined for keeping open on Sunday. They got an ordinance through the council which took away the power of the mayor to issue such an order, but the mayor vetoed it and the council refused to pass it over the veto. The saloon men now have given up that plan of action, and will appoint a committee to confer with the mayor and see if a compromise cannot be effected. The association now has 130 members, and the liquor men expect to take in the soft drink and cigar men, and ultimately to have a membership of between four and five hundred.

Starving to Death

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by O. T. Erhart, druggist.

BABY'S CREEP IS FATAL

LA PORTE, Iowa, Sept. 28.—While playing about on the floor of the sitting room last evening the eight-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. George Smelser crept over to the table and seizing hold of a tablecloth, pulled the lamp off. As the lamp struck the floor it burst and the blazing oil flew over the little one, burning it so badly that it lived only a few hours. A strange thing about the accident was the fact that the child never before had attempted to creep. It was an only child.

INJURED BY JUMPING ON FORK HANDLE

NEWTON, Iowa, Sept. 28.—Harry Berry, son of Roy Berry, warden of the Nebraska state prison at Lincoln, is in a critical condition here as the result of a fall upon the broken handle of a pitchfork. Harry, who is fifteen years of age, has been visiting his grandfather Elijah Hackley, who lives five miles north of here. Yesterday in company with Hackley, the boy came to town to attend a horse auction. Harry went up into the hay-mow to assist another boy in throwing down some hay. When he had finished he threw the broken-handled pitchfork down, the tines sticking in the ground and holding it upright. The boy then climbed about half way down the ladder and jumped, landing upon the fork, which penetrated his body six inches. The physicians who are attending him say that it is doubtful if he will recover.

WARM CAMPAIGN IN PENNSYLVANIA

(Special Tribune Service.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 28.—Pennsylvania's unique campaign is now on in earnest and it is proving fully as exciting as was forecasted earlier in the summer. The managers of the regular republican organization are using every effort to inject as much national politics into the contest as possible. "Stand by Roosevelt" and "Stand by the Tariff" are the rallying cries. Outside speakers are being urged to come into the state with the hope that the contest may be nationalized as much as possible. Speaker Cannon and several other leaders of national prominence have consented to visit the state, but they will confine their speech-making to the close congressional districts.

The Lincoln republicans and the democrats who have joined in a fusion ticket, declare that it is purely a state fight, and say that the effort of the regular republicans to introduce national questions is for the purpose of diverting the attention of the voters from the real issue, which is, "Shall the state organizations formed by Quay and passed down to Penrose be permitted to control the politics of the state?"

Opinions differ as to what the outcome will be. The Lincoln republicans and the democrats won a notable victory in Philadelphia last fall and they hope to duplicate that victory in the state this year. But they are not as harmonious now as they were in the local campaign last year and some close observers doubt if they can carry the state. Nevertheless it is an exceedingly interesting fight.

Each side wants it to appear that President Roosevelt is in sympathy with it. The president is to visit the state next week, going first to Harrisburg to attend the dedication of the new state capitol and then to York to attend the county fair. So far he has remained strictly neutral in the fight and it is regarded as unlikely that he will touch upon politics in his addresses in the state next week.

MISSOURI LAWYERS MEET

(Special Tribune Service.)

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 28.—Noted lawyers and jurists from every section of the state are gathered here for the annual meeting of the Missouri Bar association, which will be in session two days. The feature of the opening day is the annual address of the president, R. F. Walker of St. Louis. Eugene Ware of Topeka delivers the annual address before the association and another eminent jurist on the program for an address is Judge Wiley of the United States court in China, who is to discuss the administration of justice in the Philippines.

PIKE'S PEAK CELEBRATION

(Tribune Special Service.)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 28.—This was Colorado Day scheduled on the calendar of the Pike centennial celebration and it proved one of the biggest days of the entire week. A parade in the forenoon was followed by a long list of social and sporting events in the afternoon, including the finals in the polo and golf tournaments. The big pyrotechnic display, for which preparations on an elaborate scale have been made takes place tonight, and still another event on the program is to be the banquet of the Colorado Bar association, at which a number of speakers of note will be heard.

DOWIEITES READY TO FOLLOW A NEW IDOL

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A new leader has arisen in Zion City. He is Charles F. Parham, an evangelist of the Apostolic faith, a sect that has 5,000 followers, chiefly in Kansas and California. In a single week he has attracted several hundred followers and last night General Overseer Voliva held a special meeting of officers of the church to see if some prompt and effective measures could not be taken against the proselyting. His converts include some of the prominent elders.

"You must choose either me or this intruder who has stolen into our church," said Voliva at the meeting. "You cannot serve two leaders. This man is winning some of the most faithful people from their allegiance at a critical time. The only thing that will enable us to weather the present storm is unity. I fear that this unity is threatened."

Meanwhile Parham was holding an enthusiastic meeting at the residence of John Clark, not more than a block away from the college.

"I have come to save the people of Zion from the selfishness and bigotry of their leaders," said the evangelist boldly. "Four months ago I saw Zion City in a vision, and the troubles of its people were made clear to me. 'Arise and go to Zion and take up the burden of an oppressed people,' a voice said to me. I am here and will bring you out of all your difficulties if you will trust me."

"We will!" shouted more than 300 people with the vim that formerly greeted the utterances of John Alexander Dowie.

GO-EDS FIRED FOR CHEERING RUSH

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 28.—Twenty-five young women students at Washington seminary, a fashionable girls' school, have been asked to pack their trunks and go home because they "played hooky" yesterday to see a class rush at Washington and Jefferson college.

"Horrors!" exclaimed Miss Christina Thompson the principal when she heard of the young women's conduct. Then with a salt bottle to her nose she summoned the culprits before her and spoke thus:

"I am going to send every one of you home. I am surprised that so barbaric a spectacle should afford enjoyment to any girl of my school. Hereafter I must insist that these rough college boys be avoided."

The young women who have been suspended were conspicuous in cheering their admirers among the sophomores and the freshmen in the annual color fight.

MEINKING'S HERD IS FINE

BANGOR MAN'S POLAND CHINAS SWEEP THE PRIZES

Pioneer Herd is Triumphant at La Crosse Interstate Fair

R. Meinking's "Pioneer Herd" of Poland China swine scored a signal success at the Interstate fair this week. The Bangor breeder showed a most excellent exhibit, all the leading strains being perfectly typified in his pens. Not only was he successful in the scoring for prizes, but an acute demand for his stock developed and he disposed of a large number of hogs, sows and pigs to eager farmers who intend in the future to breed better swine than they have heretofore been able to raise. Among the prize winners Mr. Meinking displayed this year were the following:

Ideal Sunshine II (boar), registered No. 91197, first special prize offered by the International Stock Food company for best boar of any breed or age, all breeds competing.
Ideal Sunshine II (boar), registered 91197, first premium in age class.
Perfection Lady (sow, 207050), second prize in age class.

Black Bess, second prize, yearling class.
Boar, 6 months, under one year, first regular premium.
Boar, 6 months, under one year, first Wisconsin special premium.

Boar, 6 months, under one year, third premium, Wisconsin special premium.
Boar, under 6 months, third Wisconsin special premium.

Sow, 6 months and under 1 year, Wisconsin special first prize.
Sow, 6 months and under 1 year, special prize.

Best old herd (one boar and three sows), first premium.
Sow, 6 months and under 1 year, third prize.

herd of Poland China swine, both young and old herds.

The triumph of the Pioneer Herd was expected. It has been scientifically bred, and its owner is enjoying the fruits of intelligent application to the business of making good animals better. His herd is representative of the most fashionable and celebrated families of Poland Chinas the world has produced.

Mr. Meinking is in the market with his herd. He proposes to sell fashionable stock for breeding purposes at reasonable prices. While he is not in the business for his health, he takes pride in doing his part toward educating the farmers of Wisconsin to an understanding of the desirability of raising the best hogs, and he feels that every animal he sells for breeding purposes makes the state richer by aiding the production of scientifically bred hogs. People desiring to buy may call on him in the fair grounds, or write him or call upon him at his home near Bangor. Address Bangor, rural route No. 1.

Note.—One hundred dollars was divided for special prizes.

UNCLE SAM WILL DRIVE OUT DUTCH

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 28.—Holland will be called on by the United States government to relinquish the sovereignty assumed by it over the island of Palmas one of the little islands of the Philippine archipelago which was ceded to this government by Spain under the treaty of Paris.

Official advices were received by the insular bureau of the war department that the Dutch had assumed sovereignty over the island. This information was transmitted to the department of state. The Dutch have gone so far as to appoint a governor for the island. This government will not allow the Dutch to hold it.

Palmas is one of the small outlying islands of the Philippines, being about sixty miles due east from the Sarangani islands, and well within the limits given by Spain to this country. It is one of the most fertile of the smaller islands of the Philippines. The inhabitants speak a mongrel language with a Manobo basis, but are well behaved, good people.

For fifteen years the Dutch ships have been making constant voyages to Palmas and many people from Holland have settled permanently in the little island.

BAILEY SAYS ATTACK UPON HIM IS DUE TO SPITE WORK

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 28.—Senator Joseph W. Bailey has made public a statement in reply to the sharp criticism to which he has been subjected since the disclosures in court proceedings in St. Louis of his relations as counsel with Henry Clay Pierce, head of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, which is the southwestern branch of the Standard Oil company. The senator declares that the attacks on him are made by a group of "dissatisfied politicians," the same men who opposed his election to the senate six years ago, and are made to injure him in the estimation of the country at large and to impair his usefulness in the senate, not in the hope of defeating him in the present campaign. He says he won the democratic endorsement for re-election in the primaries and in the state convention in the fair contest before the people, and continues:

The first step in this campaign of malevolence and detraction was to have a purported interview with Roger Sullivan of Illinois assailing me sent broadcast over the entire country. Mr. Sullivan promptly denounced that interview as a falsehood.

Defend Act as Council.

The next step was to circulate the falsehood that the Tennessee railroad properties for which I am the attorney belong to the Standard Oil company. Some of the men that are circulating that story know and all of them could have learned with very little inquiry that the Standard Oil company had no interest in or connection with these properties, and that they were owned by H. C. Pierce, J. C. Van Blarcon, W. H. Thompson and many other leading men of St. Louis. I accepted the employment and performed exactly the same kind of service that would have expected of any other reputable lawyer. The employment was a perfectly proper one, and such as any reputable lawyer would have accepted without the slightest hesitation. There never was the least attempt to conceal my attorneyship for those properties, nor was there the least reason why it should be concealed. The objection to my employment as the attorney of these properties must proceed upon the theory that a man in public office has no right to pursue any private business, and such a doctrine, if applied to all men and all officers, would reduce the public life of this community to a point where only rich men or rascals could afford to accept an office.

Points to Congress Record

Senator Bailey denies that he has neglected his duties in the pursuit of his private business and continues:

The Congressional Record will show that during my fifteen years service—first in the house and then in the senate—I have spoken and voted on every important question and my most malignant enemy cannot point to a single speech or vote in the interest of my clients and against the interest of my constituents.

The senator, referring to a circular issued by the Good Government Club of Houston criticising his business dealings with John H. Kirby and the Kirby Lumber company, says it contains simply a repetition of the charges made against him recently in a magazine article which he characterizes as "a scurrilous and infamous attack." He adds:

The magazine article did not, however, as I now recall it, include the statement now made for the first time in this circular, that I helped Mr. Kirby sell an "east Texas railroad to the Santa Fe system." All the Houston people who know anything about Mr. Kirby's affairs know that the railroad which he built and sold to the Santa Fe system was built and sold years before I had any business relations with Mr. Kirby.

Answer to Oil Charge.

Taking up the charge that when the Waters-Pierce Oil company was restored to good standing in Texas after the ouster proceedings and its "reorganization" he knew that it was not an "independent concern," Mr. Bailey refers to his testimony before the legislative committee at that time and quotes from a letter to him from H. C. Pierce under date of Sept. 20, 1906, as follows:

In view of the attacks being made upon you with reference to the readmission of the Waters-Pierce Oil company in Texas, I think it due you that I should say that when I sought your assistance in that matter I represented to you that if permitted to continue in business in your state the new Waters-Pierce Oil company would be an independent enterprise and absolutely free from the ownership or control of the Standard Oil company.

In conclusion Mr. Bailey answers other criticism of his business activities by saying that he never saw E. H. Harriman in his life and never discussed a business proposition with Thomas F. Ryan.

SWINDLERS FROM MEXICO GUILTY

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 28.—Of twenty defendants charged with swindling the New York Life, Mutual and Equitable insurance companies, five have been convicted and one acquitted.

Francisco Cerezo was sentenced for forgery and fraud to four years imprisonment and a fine of $1,000. Fernando Pina and Ponce de Leon, Cerezo's accomplices, were given two years and fined $500. Jose Sotovenas was condemned for fraud and forgery to eleven months in prison and a fine of $400. Jesus Campus Mendez, on the same charge, received a two years' sentence and a fine of $1,400.

This brings to a close one of the most celebrated cases in Mexican criminal annals. The frauds involved approximately $800,000, though not all the fraudulent policies were paid, as the insurance companies discovered the swindles in time to save a large part of the money.

ASKS DAMAGES FROM WOMAN WHO TURNED HIM DOWN

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 28.—Eustace Southard of Eaglesport, formerly of Columbus, O., where he was engaged in the manufacturing business, is in South Bend to bring breach of promise proceedings against Miss Viola Keller of South Bend. The affair is the outcome of a matrimonial "ad." which Southard answered. He declares he spent money lavishly on the young woman.

LEAPS FROM TRAIN TO SAVE HIS DOG

KENOSHA, Wis., Sept. 28.—In an effort to save the life of a pet bulldog William Sheehan of Milwaukee leaped from a train running at the rate of forty miles per hour. He fell by the side of the track and escaped with slight bruises. Sheehan had brought the dog from Milwaukee and was on his way to Chicago. Just after the train pulled out of Kenosha the dog leaped from the platform and Sheehan followed suit. In the excitement the dog escaped. Sheehan was arrested later on a charge of attempting to commit suicide.

STEEL WORKERS STOCK RAISED

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 28.—If any more workmen of the United States Steel corporation want to take stock in the concern, an opportunity which has been given the men annually for the past four years, they will have to pay the full par value of $100 per share. This is the information which has been brought to Pittsburgh from the New York headquarters, and not a little ill-feeling is shown by the workmen over the news. In years past the workmen have been allowed to take the preferred stock at from 55 to 81, and the raise announced is almost 25 per cent over the highest ever yet paid by them. There are now 123,464 shares of the stock held by workmen of the corporation, most of it in Pittsburgh.

WHALEERS MUST HAVE LIME JUICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 28.—Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor has ordered the customs collectors at Juneau, Port Townsend, and San Francisco to arrest the masters of the whaling steamers Bowhead, Karluk, Narwhale, Thrasher, Alexander, and Bonanza, which were ice-bound all winter at Point Barrow. The masters will be charged with having neglected to provide their crews with lime juice and other anti-scorbutics and medicines prescribed by law for the health of their crews. Forty-four members of the crews of the vessels will be sent to this city as witnesses.

PENNS CHASE A NEGRO

YORK, Pa., Sept. 28.—A posse of constables, armed with shotguns, is scouring the river hills of Peach Bottom township for Charles Jamison, colored, charged with an assault on Mrs. George Johnson, colored. Chas. Smith also colored, is accused by Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson says she was assaulted by the men and dragged by the heels a long distance on the public road, where she was strapped to a board, thrown into a wagon and carried three miles to an abandoned quarry where her assailants intended to drown her.

One of the men lost his nerve when the quarry was reached and a quarrel took place, during which she managed to escape.

Smith was captured and confessed. Jamison is still at large and is said to be armed.

PEASANTS IN PANIC AT SEA

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—All went well with the steamship Nord Amerika, which arrived here yesterday from Naples with 1,327 passengers in her steerage and eighty-five in the cabins, until a woman in the steerage died and her body was buried at sea. Then the older passengers in the third class—peasants, mostly from the country around Vesuvius, began to shake their heads, roll up their eyes and tell one another that a curse had fallen upon the ship.

"One misfortune begets another," was a Neapolitan proverb often quoted at dinner that evening as the steerage folk spooned their thick soup or curled spaghetti on their tin forks. The young men laughed at what they called the cackling of old hens, at least they did so until an hour before midnight. Then they, too, began to shake their heads, for the wind was shrieking and the sea tumbling like mountains in a frolic.

Suddenly Boatswain Borella sprang out of a forward companionway and darted here and there until he found First Officer Pittaluga.

"The ship is on fire," Pittaluga proved himself a man of calmness and nerve. He laughed loud as if at some foolish alarm on the part of the sailor and made his way leisurely to the fore-castle.

There he saw a blue wisp of smoke curling from a ventilator and immigrants swarming up the hatchway yelling "fire!" Those already on deck had seen the smoke, and, with minds filled with the ill omen of the woman's death, they set up a cry that the ship was doomed.

At almost the first sight of smoke the cry began to sound through the steerage:

"To the boats. To the boats."

The women urged on the men. "The ship is doomed," they shouted, mingling that superstitious declaration with cries of "fire!" They caught up their children, wrapped them in blankets grabbed from the bunks and appealed to the men to take possession of the lifeboats. Quickly the men joined with the women in demanding that the boats be launched.

By this time the cabin passengers had learned that the ship was on fire, and while their fear did not find expression in the same way, it was nevertheless as real as that of those in the steerage.

In a jiffy Pittaluga had thirty members of the crew working. While this battle was being waged below decks a fiercer one was in progress above. The crew of the Nord Amerika, with the officers, consists of 123 men. All who were not needed to fight the fire and work the ship were summoned by the captain to hold the boats against the frenzied immigrants.

"Stand back," the captain commanded them. "The first man who tries to cut a rope or enter a boat will be shot."

Then the captain ordered the armed members of his crew to form in battle line and advance upon the steerage passengers. This they did with leveled weapons, commanding them at the same time to go to their berths. In this way all were driven below decks and kept there for the rest of the night.

TWO GRAFTERS ARRESTED

The police yesterday arrested two pickpockets from St. Paul, believing to be working at the La Crosse street gate of the fair grounds. They were well dressed and appeared to be traveling men. They will be held until after the fair and will then be deported.

LA FOLLETTE WILL TAKE PART IN CAMPAIGN

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 28.—Looking back at the work of the republican convention republicans view the outcome with satisfaction. The general feeling is that the republican party of Wisconsin has taken no backward step and that it still holds, by virtue of the progressive platform adopted, the foremost place in the list of states that are fighting for and securing legislation for the good of the whole people.

Now that the smoke has cleared away and the personal elements have been disposed of, the general feeling is that the fight for principles to be enacted into law is the big contest in this state, and the fact that the convention adopted a platform which is progressive, and which would be considered radical by those who style themselves as conservatives. There is no comfort or consolation in the platform for those who have opposed the reforms which have been enacted into law in this state.

La Follette Was Endorsed

The principles set forth in the platform of 1902 and 1904 are adhered to, Senator Robert M. La Follette's work as governor of Wisconsin was endorsed and the state's delegation in both houses of congress is urged to work for the passage of legislation similar to that enacted in Wisconsin under the administration of Robert M. La Follette.

Though there was a fight on the reelection of W. D. Connor to the state chairmanship of the party, the general run of republicans are satisfied with the result and predict a harmonious campaign for the entire ticket, state and legislative.

Senator Will Speak

Senator R. M. La Follette will take part in the campaign. It was to be expected that he would, as he always has done so. While plans for his speeches probably will not be made for several days to come, it is understood that he will speak for the entire ticket from governor to candidates for assembly.

It can be authoritatively stated that he will devote two or three weeks to the campaign in Wisconsin and that he will cover the state thoroughly.

Lenroot Offers Services

Speaker I. L. Lenroot, called upon Governor Davidson and informed the governor that he might call upon him for any service he desired during the campaign. Many other republicans who were Lenroot men before the primaries also called upon the governor.

Chairman W. D. Connor called such members of the newly elected state central committee as were in the city together. No particular action was taken, but the general aspect of the campaign was discussed. Another meeting will be called by Mr. Connor about Oct. 1 at which time a secretary will be elected and the work of the campaign begun at once. The members present were W. A. Jones, Oconomowoc; E. B. Mattoon, Sheboygan; Dr. P. H. Lindley, Chippewa Falls; Perry C. Wilder, Evansville; A. T. Torge, Madison; D. O. Mahoney, Viroqua, and Roy Reed, Ripon.

Essman for Secretary

W. L. Essman, manager of the speakers' bureau of the state central committee two years ago, is mentioned for secretary of the committee. The name of E. W. Le Roy, Marinette, has also been mentioned here, but owing to the fact that Mr. Le Roy is a candidate for re-election to the assembly and is said to aspire to the speakership, his friends say that they do not believe that he will consider the matter.

The speakership of the next assembly was not discussed to any extent during the convention. The strife over the election of a state chairman and the adoption of a platform overshadowed all else. Apparently both the men who have been mentioned for the place felt that it was not a wise thing to mix their campaigns with the contests that were before the convention.

Candidates for Speaker

Both Mr. Le Roy and H. L. Ekern, the two tentative candidates, received some advertising in the convention. Mr. Le Roy was elected secretary of the convention by acclamation, and at the close of the convention he was given a vote of thanks for his satisfactory and efficient work. Mr. Ekern was placed on the committee on resolutions, and was also chosen as one of the floor managers by the supporters of W. H. Dick in the contest over the election of a state chairman.
